

Here Are New Names For All The Campus Buildings

At a recent meeting of the board of regents it was decided that the buildings and halls at Northwest Missouri State College would be named after outstanding persons connected with the college either past or present. These names became effective as of June 1, 1961.

Residence Hall will be known as Roberta Hall. It is named after Roberta Steel, who died in 1952 from results of injuries suffered in the explosion and fire ten years ago. Freshman Hall is called Perrin Hall, named after Alice Perrin, the first dean of women of the college. The new women's building is Hudson Hall, named after Miss Nell Hudson, the first woman registrar.

Quad 1 is named in honor of C. A. Hawkins, Latin scholar and professor. Quad 2 is known as Cauffield Hall, named after A. J. Cauffield, retired geography instructor. Hake Hall is the name given to Quad 3, after J. W. Hake, professor of physics.

Quad 4 is called McCracken Hall. It is named after Jack McCracken, an outstanding basketball player of the early 1930's. Cooper Hall is Quad 5, named after A. H. "Bert" Cooper, former director of field services. Men's Hall is named in honor of George H. Colbert, first dean of faculty and math professor. It is known as Colbert Hall.

The West wing is called Wilson Hall, named in honor of the late Lon Wilson, dean of men. Richardson Hall is the name chosen for the South wing. It is named after Ira Richardson, the fourth president of the college. The East wing is called Cook Hall, after T. H. Cook, social science professor. Colden Hall is the name given to the Classroom Building. It is named after the first president of the board of regents.

Previously named buildings were the men's gymnasium and the union building. The gym is known as Lamkin Health and Physical Education Building, named after the late Uel Lamkin, fifth president of the college. The union is known as the J. W. Jones Building, named in honor of the current president of the college.

Construction Noises Signal Progress In Erection of New Dormitories on Campus

According to the students living on campus this semester, they have an adequate excuse for receiving unsatisfactory grades. Their excuse can be summed up in one word — noise.

When the noise ends Northwest Missouri State College will be proud to claim two new buildings — a new men's quad and a women's dormitory.

The structure of the buildings is rapidly taking form as the steel beams are put into place. This looks like a difficult task but because of the skill of the crane operator, he is able to place the beams where he has been instructed.

Passers-by can see much activity as the men are busy at work. They can see the cement being poured, men walking upon and sliding down the heavy beams, dirt being thrown from several feet below the ground, workers busy welding, and the man sitting in the crane cautiously awaiting instructions as to where the next beam will be placed.

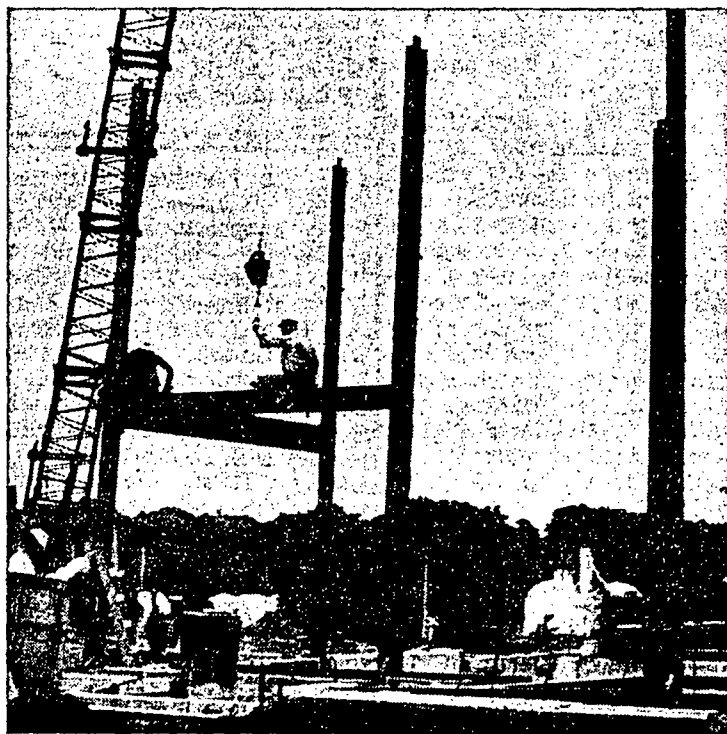

According to Dr. J. W. Jones, President of the college, both buildings will be completed and ready for use for the fall term of 1962. At that time the new quad will have a capacity of 248 men, and the dormitory will house 260 women students.

The Thomas Construction Company, Inc., from St. Joseph and Maryville, Mo., is the general contractor in charge of the construction on the two buildings.

Ten Names Are Added To 1961-62 Faculty List

Several new faces will appear in the NWMSC faculty next fall. Those announced to date are:

Carole Clemmons, business; Dr. Floyd G. Delon, education; Rokaya M. Hasan, women's physical education; Sun M. Hahng, business; Darrel Dean McGinnis, art; Dale L. Midland, English and speech; Shela Moss, second grade supervisor; Dean Edward Savage, fifth grade supervisor; and Mary Jane Sunkel, business.

SLOWLY TAKING SHAPE is the skeleton of the new women's dormitory on the east campus.

NWMSC Holds Cheerleading Clinic June 19-23

Northwest Missouri State College's first cheerleader clinic was held here last week, June 18-23. One hundred twenty-three cheerleaders representing 29 different schools attended the clinic.

Purpose of Clinic

The purpose of the clinic was to give all cheerleaders or potential cheerleaders first-hand instruction in the latest cheer-leading techniques by qualified instructors.

The instructors, members of the National Cheerleaders Association, included Merle Tyler, Lois Rhodus, and Judy Kulowski.

The girls were housed in Residence Hall and the boys in the Quad. Carolyn Boner was the head counselor, and other counselors included Jane Porter, Martie Gray, Janice Crisope, Cicily Spicer, Barbara Loyd, and Mrs. Billie Scott.

Jones Welcomes Group President J. W. Jones welcomed the cheerleaders at the opening session on June 18 in the Union Lounge. The schedule of events at the clinic included yell leading workshops, lecture and group discussions, stunt nights, mock rallies, and recreational activities.

Miss Bonnie Magill, chairman of the women's department of physical education, was in charge of making the necessary arrangements for the clinic.

Miss Magill stated, "I feel that the clinic will be a big help to the cheerleaders going back to their schools and will also be advantageous to our college cheerleaders who have taken part."

Grube Judges Contest

Dr. Frank Grube, chairman of the division of language and literature, traveled June 23 to Clarinda, Iowa, to judge contestants for Miss Southwest Iowa.

The annual summer semester enrollment here began with a boom — from thunderheads filled with H₂O! It rained folks!!!

During registration day, June 12, traffic moved smoothly from the Administration building to the Uel Lamkin Health and Physical Education building to the library basement where text books were issued. Registration was called short in order for the faculty to attend Dean Wilson's funeral at 4 p.m. Monday.

From June 12th through 19th, 925 students participated in both undergraduate and post graduate registration divisions.

Enrollment in the undergraduate programs numbered 824. Of the 101 graduate students, twenty are finishing under the NWMSC program while eighty-one are participating in the University of Missouri cooperative program.

Two week workshops granting two hours credit have a forty-five strong enrollment. These workshops are held for four hours in the morning. Two more are planned for later in the semester.

Barring more rain, greater humidity and increasing hot days, the six weeks ahead look prosperous for the student body.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Message From the President

Let me take this opportunity to extend Northwest Missouri State College's welcome to all of you summer students. We are glad to have you with us.

I hope you have a cool summer and profit greatly by your interest and achievement.

Dr. Jones

Think Happy

The latest fad that many psychologists are trying on for kicks is happy thinking. They stress forming a picture in your mind of what you would like to be, and you will automatically be it. If you think sad, you will be sad; if you think happy, you will act happy, because the thought is always father to the action.

This philosophy always reminds me of the story of the poor farmer, who was accosted by a friend one day and asked how things were going with him. The farmer replied that he guessed everything was all right, except for a few inconsequential matters. It seems that his well had run dry, the fence over in the south pasture had broken down, the recent rain had caused the roof of his barn to cave in, his daughter had run off with the inevitable traveling salesman, the bank was getting ready to foreclose the mortgage, his wife had taken up judo and he was afraid to enter his home anymore, the creek had run dry and so had the well, his credit had been cut off at the bank, he had two sick cows, and a cold in his nose, but he felt he was doing okay because he was still thinking happy.

So as you stride, or stumble along the path toward higher learning, put cramming, exams, unsympathetic instructors, and parking tickets all in their proper perspective, and think happy!

FAREWELL BUT NOT GOODBYE!

We will miss you at Northwest State, Dean Wilson, whether it be as a consultant, as a teacher, as a coach, or as a friend. You gave us your time and your patience and we were grateful. We will never forget your friendship . . . never.

They're Talking About . . .

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . the large enrollment for summer school . . . signs of progress accompanied by the inevitable sounds of drills, blow torches, and hammers . . . summer school—a time for the coeds to experiment with new hair colors (don't believe it, look around you!)

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . the illnesses plaguing members of our faculty—get well soon! . . . the pretty cheerleaders on campus last week (who says that boys outnumber the girls up here 2 to 1 ????) . . . crowded tennis courts . . . new ways girls are finding to exit from their convertibles (oh those aching bones!)

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . Lecture process . . . girls being mad at their fellows—so early in the summer, . . . changing clothes for supper . . .

L. G. Bladt Elected

Mildred E. Ross, 1960-61 president of the Northwest Missouri State College Community Teachers Organization, has announced the new officers for the 1961-62 school term.

They are Mr. L. G. Bladt, president; Mrs. Avis Graham, Vice-President; and Mr. Peter Jackson, Secretary-Treasurer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

In less than a week, we will be celebrating our nation's independence and many of us will not want to be away from home, particularly those who live farther away. Many students (and professors, I presume) feel that this holiday has fallen on a day that will turn out to be an inconvenience as far as trying to be with one's own on that particular day as well as dangerous driving on the highway on the eve of this holiday.

One week-end, a school day, a holiday. The only people who will profit will be the gas companies who will be busily filling up the tanks of cars after they have come back from the week-end to attend a few classes on Monday, and then rush back home in the very dangerous holiday traffic.

I would like to suggest this idea for consideration by the administration of our college in regard to themselves and the students. That is to allow Monday, July 3, as a holiday as well as the 4th. Also, a suggestion as to how students could make up the day of the 3rd: It is understood that soon after July 1st, classes of two hours, etc., are lessened and students attend their classes three instead of four days a week. In order to make up for the Monday holiday, I am sure the students and faculty would not mind attending classes as usual an extra day before the change of hours takes place. This would make up for the Monday being unselfishly given to us.

Thanking you for any consideration given.

First 1961 Grad Seminar Is Held

At the first graduate seminar of the 1961 summer session held in the student union lounge June 14 at 2:50 p.m., Dr. Leon Miller, Dean of Instruction, explained the cooperative graduate program with the University of Missouri, in the absence of Dr. L. G. Townsend, Dean of the College of Education at the university.

Dr. Miller discussed briefly the local college's reasons for joining the University of Missouri's graduate program, benefits to be received by graduate students under this plan, and the university's philosophy towards final examinations and grading. Dr. Miller then opened the seminar for questions and announcements from other faculty members.

Mrs. L. G. Bladt, Dean of Women, and the union social committee served coffee and cookies to faculty members and graduate students attending the meeting.

Four Workshops Scheduled For Summer Agenda

Two workshops, one in education and one in business, were held last week and are continuing this week from June 19-30.

The education workshop conducted by Mr. Dady and Paula Parks in Horace Mann School Building is giving special attention to identification of and provision for working with exceptional children in academic and non-academic areas. The 43 people enrolled in the workshop made a visit to the Myrtle E. Miller School in St. Joseph.

Conducted by Dr. Surrey and Dr. DeVore, the business workshop is training high school business teachers and others trained in business to organize and conduct adult education courses in finance, insurance, and consumer analysis, which will benefit their respective communities. The business department at NWMSC has been and plans to continue conducting a similar adult education program.

Two other workshops are planned this summer. The science workshop conducted by Miss Ann Gorsuch during July 3-14 will feature methods and techniques with demonstrations in elementary science.

Conducted by Mrs. Pauline Arthur from July 17-28, the language arts workshop will be planned mainly for elementary and junior high language arts teachers. Including materials, methods, and techniques in this area, the workshop will stress the more current trends of material presentation.

These two workshops for which two hours residence credit will be given for completion of each workshop, will be held in Horace Mann School Building. Registration for the workshops will be held the first morning of each workshop in the Office of the Registrar. The enrollment fee will be $14.50 plus laboratory fees.

Three Hospitals Claim Three Faculty Members

Miss Vida Dunbar, math instructor, fell and broke her left pelvis bone while registering June 9th for the summer semester at the University of Kansas. She will be recuperating at the Watkins Memorial Hospital for the next few weeks.

Dr. M. T. Sheldon entered St. Francis Hospital May 30th for a respiratory ailment. Mrs. Sheldon reports he is feeling much better.

Donald Peel, sponsor of the Northwest Missourian, underwent surgery for bladder stones June 9th at the Missouri Methodist Hospital in St. Joseph. Mr. Peel returned to classes June 26th.

School Teachers Annual Program

The annual college day was held Wednesday, June 14.

Mrs. Dorothy L. Brooksby, field representative of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C., addressed the group. She praised the Missouri teachers for their state and national work and discussed the efforts of the N.E.A. in retirement benefits, research, publishing, and as the third strongest lobby in the nation.

Mrs. Brooksby noted that even though a good teacher is the best thing that can happen to a child, the public is not informed of the splendid job being done.

H. R. Dieterich of the education department gave the invocation for the morning program and Mr. Glen Stewart and Mr. Steve Smay provided the music.

Everett W. Brown, director of field services, extended a welcome to the groups and Mrs. Joye Tobin, North Kansas City, brought greetings from the State Association of Classroom Teachers.

Mrs. Avis Graham, president, presided at the morning meeting and spoke briefly on "The Faith of American Teachers" and was also in charge of the luncheon which was held in the Lakeview Room of the Union Building. Dr. J. W. Jones gave the luncheon message, "The Importance of Being Professional."

Seniors Finish With Full Week

Having been excused from final examinations, the senior graduating class of May, 1961, found themselves participating in a whirlwind of activities during their final week.

Baccalaureate services for 239 graduating seniors were held Sunday afternoon, May 28, at Northwest Missouri State College in the main auditorium.

The Rev. Roy Fields, pastor of the First Christian Church, Maryville, gave the main address. His topic was "The Challenge and Responsibility of Freedom." Others participating in the event were the Rev. Charles Sanders, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church; Dr. Ralph Hicks, pastor of the Methodist Church; and the Rev. Howard Judah, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The annual senior breakfast, the reception given by Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, and the alumni dinner were all held on Wednesday, May 31.

Maryville Wins Tennis Honors Three Years

For the third year in a row, Maryville won the 1960-61 MIAA conference tennis championship.

Bregin, Maryville, won the singles and Freese and Bregin teamed up to win the doubles. The rating of those schools participating in the MIAA conference are as follows.

- 1 Maryville — 21
- 2 Kirksville — 9
- 3 Rolla — 8
- 4 Cape — 8
- 5 Springfield — 2
- 6 Warrensburg — 0

There are four members of the NWMSC Tennis team who will receive recognition for their contributions. They are: John Bregin, Jack Freese, Neal Reynolds, Andrew Cerio, and John Kelley.

Sig Taus Take Intramural Cup

With sports for all! A maximum participation of over ninety per cent of the male enrollment participated in intramurals in one activity or another during the school year.

The intramural program was under the guidance of Dr. H. D. Peterson, and the intramural commission consisted of Jack Freese, Leroy Hammond, Gary Siefken, Ron Severson and Dale Cramer, student intramural director.

The intramural supremacy cup was won by Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity with 2490 points. The respective points of each organization were:

Sigma Tau Gamma	2490
Phi Sigma Epsilon	2109
Tau Kappa Epsilon	1164
Phi Lambda Chi	1044
Independents	386
Alpha Phi Omega	91

Activities ranged from tennis, touch football, wrestling, basketball, free throw, volleyball, badminton, bowling, swimming, softball, through track for one of the most complete small college programs.

The individual high point award was won by Allen Kearns with 286 points. Jack Freese won second with 273 points and Ollie Cromwell third with 251.

A record was broken in intramural swimming by Charles Hook who broke the thirty-yard freestyle. Records were broken in track by Richard Okinaka who ran the half mile in two minutes, two and seven-tenths seconds, and by Fred Kratzke in the 220 yard dash clocking 22.9 seconds.

Gamma Sigma Sigma To Boston Convention

Gamma Sigma Sigma Girls Service Sorority from Northwest Missouri State College was installed as a chapter of the national sorority at the annual convention held recently in Boston, Massachusetts.

Members of the local sorority attending the convention were Mrs. Jane Blezek Triplett, Miss Pat Keller, Miss Sandra Krokstrom, and Miss Evelyn Nash.

Accompanying the group were the sponsors, Miss Barbara Palling, college librarian, and Mrs. Dorothy Walker, women's physical education instructor.

Miss Palling furnished transportation for the group.

A highly successful program was culminated by the awarding of the supremacy cup and the individual high point award at the awards assembly. Here's looking to an equally successful coming year under the leadership of newly chosen intramural director, Dale Hansen.

Dr. H. D. Peterson can once more be found in the health and physical education department of which he is the chairman.

Dr. Peterson, who had an emergency appendectomy at St. Francis Hospital in late March, was taken to Kansas City for treatment of the first of two bloodclots in his legs in April. He is now able to and has resumed his duties in the health and physical education department here on campus.

Baseball Season

Maryville's non conference baseball season came to a close with four wins and three losses.

Pitchers for NWMSC were Rodney Esch and Bill Ludwig. Other members receiving awards are as follows: R. Clark, S. Croley, B. Dunham, R. Esch, G. Guenther, R. Jensen, J. Kloeber, B. Luding, F. Potter, H. Rolfe, H. Sims, J. Tipton, G. Holmes and N. Nardone.

Conference

Kirksville showed their athletic ability in the MIAA track conference by accumulating a total of 93 points. This is more than twice the points accumulated by Cape, which placed second. Maryville wound up in points.

Those members of the track team receiving awards are as follows: K. Carver, J. Gilliland, M. Howard, L. Ireland, D. Jones, S. Marriott, W. Meyers, H. Plagman, R. Wench, C. West, R. Miller, J. Denton, H. Gentry, R. Kasperson, T. Porterfield and L. Sommer.

During the 1960-61 track season there were six MIAA conference records broken.

They are:

- 440 yard run — Ely Waren
- Two mile run — Bauch, Kirksville: 9:53
- Pole Vault — Dudley, Cape; 13 ft ½ 1¼ inches
- Mile run — McFadden, Kirksville: 4:20
- L. H. — Watts, Kirksville: 23.9
- H. H. — Taylor, Warrensburg: 14.8
